Let's Start!

The weekend is here. Time to plan something fun!

Learning Outcome

Exchange advice and suggestions in communicative situations.

Ask your partner:

- What are you doing next weekend?
- Where in the world would you like to go for a romantic getaway? For an exciting adventure?

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about social activities, feelings and reactions.
- I can ask for clarification.
- I can talk about future action.

Let's Explore!

Things are looking up for Vanessa. Finally!

* To "look up" is a phrasal verb. It means to improve a situation or to search for information in a dictionary.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

- Sally: Hey, V. You look relaxed today. Did you have a good day at work?
Vanessa: Work was alright. Customers were quite generous with their tips and my waiters felt happy about it.
Sally: I bet! Do you have anything exciting planned for the weekend?
Vanessa: As a matter of fact, I do. Things are looking up with Marco.
Sally: That's so exciting! Do you know what you're going to do?
Vanessa: We are thinking of going to Montreal. We'll take the bus early on Friday. We'll spend the weekend getting ideas for new recipes. We'll come back on Monday.
Sally: You're going to have so much fun. Do you know where you're going to stay?
Vanessa: We haven't booked anything yet. We're thinking of staying downtown. We'll just improvise, I guess.
Sally: Do you have any idea how busy that neighborhood is? What will you do if you can't find anything there?
Vanessa: We'll play it by ear. I'm just excited that Marco and I are ironing out our differences.
Sally: I'm sure that spending time together will be good for the two of you.

Let's Practice!

Vanessa reacts to the events of the past week.

Instructions: Match the two parts of the sentences from Column A to Column B. Read the sentences aloud. Compare your pronunciation with your partners.

COLUMN A

1. Customers were quite
2. My waiters felt
3. Things are looking
4. I'm excited that we are ironing
5. We are thinking

COLUMN B

- a. of going to Montreal.
- b. out our differences.
- c. pretty happy about it.
- d. up with Marco.
- e. generous with their tips.

Let's Practice!

Vanessa has plans for her weekend in Montreal.

Instructions: Read the sentences. Circle the correct option to complete each sentence.

1. We ____ the bus early on Friday. take - will take - will make
2. We ____ the weekend getting ideas for new recipes. will send - will mend - will spend
3. We'll ____ on Monday. come forward - come back - come backward
4. We're ____ of staying downtown. think - going to - thinking
5. We'll just ____, I guess. improvised - improvise - improvising

Extension Activity

Organize a surprise birthday party for one of your friends.

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Think of a friend with a birthday coming up soon.
- Plan the birthday party. Think about what you'll need, the people you're going to invite, the presents you are thinking of buying, etc.
- Write an invitation to the guests. In the invitation, ask one friend to help you prepare the party.
- Share your feelings and reactions about the surprise party with your friend.

Learning Points

Talking About Future Actions

You can use two different tenses to talk about the future.

- You use will for predictions about actions or situations in the future. It can also be used for situations you cannot control or decisions made at the moment of speaking.
- You use going to for intentions, plans or ambitions.

	Structure	Example
Will	Subject + will + main verb Question word + will + subject + main verb?	Spending time together will be good for the two of you.
Going to	Subject + am/is/are + going to + main verb Question word + am/is/are + subject + main verb?	You're going to have so much fun.

Examples:

- What will you do if you can't find anything there?
- We'll take the bus early on Friday.
- We'll come back on Monday.
- We'll spend the weekend getting ideas for new recipes.
- You're going to have so much fun.

Questions With Sentences / Asking for Clarification

You ask for clarification when you want more details of what the other person is talking about.

Embedded questions are often used to ask for clarification. An embedded question is a question that has a sentence structure within it.

An embedded question builds on a simple question.

Example:

Simple question: Where are you going to stay?

Embedded question: Do you know where you're going to stay?

You can use embedded questions like Can you tell me ... ? or Do you know if/which/what ... ? to ask for clarification.

Look at the chart below for some more examples:

Main Question	Embedded Question
Do you know	what you're going to do?
Do you have any idea	how busy that neighborhood is?
Can you tell me	what time the dinner starts?
Could you tell me	when I have to be there?
Do you have any idea	who is in charge of the plans?

Examples:

- Do you have any idea how busy that neighborhood is?
- Do you know where you're going to stay?
